

Billy Sol Refusal To Talk

Pleads Fifth Amendment To Senate Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas promoter Billy Sol Estes refused today to answer questions about his dealings with government officials under the federal farm programs.

The Senate Investigations Subcommittee, after quizzing Estes for an hour behind closed doors, announced he had invoked the Fifth Amendment, pleading that answers to the questions might "tend to incriminate me."

Estes, a wheeler-dealer from Pecos, Tex., is appealing from convictions in both state and federal courts on fraud charges.

His quickly made fortune, based on liquid fertilizer sales and cotton acreage deals, has collapsed in bankruptcy.

The subcommittee ordered a brief recess, before calling Estes back to the witness stand for questioning in a public hearing.

Senator Sam Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and subcommittee aides said Estes refused to answer questions on the Fifth Amendment grounds.

The questions included whether Estes had given gifts or gratuities to anyone in the government in connection with some profitable cotton acreage planting allotments that the Agriculture Department claims were illegal.

As the closed hearing began Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said he did not believe even Estes' own lawyers knew whether he would talk.

The committee hoped to learn from Estes whether political influence helped him amass a fortune at the age of 35.

The hearings have been dormant since Sept. 22, 1962, when McClellan recessed the hearings to avoid prejudicing Estes' trials in Texas on fraud charges, of which he was found guilty.

The charges dealt with the alleged juggling of mortgages on non-existent fertilizer storage tanks, a subject the subcommittee avoided in its hearings. It dwelt, instead, on allegations that influence had helped the once politically potent Estes to reap large profits from federal farm aid programs.

Record Total Expended On State Roads

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP)—M.J. Snider reported today state Highway Department expenditures this year set a record by exceeding $160 million.

Snider, chief engineer of the department, said advance forecasts were that expenditures for the entire year for construction and right of way acquisition would be around $160 million but that figure was reached in the first 10 months of the year.

"It is heartening for me to be able to report," Snider said, "that Missouri presently is building and improving state highways faster than ever before in its history."

He said three things are mainly responsible for the surge. One is an increase of about $16 million a year in state funds as a result of an increase in the state gasoline tax two years ago. Another was release this year of some $43 million in federal funds. And the third is the network of defense roads being built, mostly with federal money, to connect new missile sites in west central Missouri.

Snider's comments were part of a speech prepared for a meeting of the U. S. Highway 71 Improvement Association.

He said work on U.S. 71 also is being stepped up. For example, in this and the next two fiscal years, $1 million will be spent for right of way and an estimated $9 million for construction. That compares with a total of $3,777,000 spent in the last previous five fiscal years.

Steady Turnout For Bonds Vote

Voting on Sedalia's $3-million sewer bond issue got under way this morning with a moderate turnout of voters reported from all four polling places.

This volume is normal, or a little above normal, for this time of day, however, but was steady and increased as the day progressed. For several reasons, the Citizens Sewer Bond Committee expects one of the biggest turnouts for a bond election alone in many years.

Pre-election explanations concerning the need for the bond approval created an unusual amount of interest in the election.

The committee arranged for transportation to the polls for any qualified voter, and according to some of the drivers of the cars used for transportation, an unprecedented number of voters are taking advantage of the offer of a free ride, to the polls.

According to a spokesman manning the phone at TA 7-1031, one of the transportation numbers, "This place is a madhouse. We have got more calls than we can take care of immediately. Some of the voters have to wait for a short time before we can pick them up."

The committee spokesman, who can be reached at the above number, said that arrangements for baby sitters have been made for those with small children wishing to vote. He added that this service will be available between 4 and 6 p.m. The baby sitters will be Girl Scouts who have volunteered their services, but have to wait until school is out to begin.

It was estimated that some 1,500 votes had been cast by noon, or an average of 400 for each polling place.

The designation of only four polling places for the city seems

Inquest to Resume In Mystery Death

CLINTON, Mo. (AP)—A coroner's inquest will be resumed Thursday night in the mysterious death of Quilla (Bud) Lewis, 51, of nearby Deepwater.

Lewis, father of 10 children, was found unconscious on a Deepwater sidewalk Saturday night and died Sunday without regaining consciousness.

He had been hit on the head while taking ice cream home to his children.

The inquest opened Monday in Clinton. Dr. Richard King, county coroner, said another session will be held Thursday night in Deepwater.

Windsor Boy Dies

Ninth Fatality In Pettis County

Pettis County's ninth fatality on the highways occurred about 3 p.m. Monday on Pettis County Route B, five miles southwest of Sedalia. Dead is Tommy Dean Hargett, 15, 808 West Benton, Windsor, who was alone in the automobile which went out of control and crashed into an electric pole.

State Trooper Pete Stohr, who conducted the investigation, reported the youth was driving a 1954 Oldsmobile two door sedan and was headed southwest on the farm-to-market blacktop road. Stohr said Hargett was apparently driving at a high rate of speed as when he topped the crest of the hill and on a curve, he appeared to have lost control of the machine. Stohr reported there were track or skid marks on the pavement for approximately 200 feet before the car left the paved highway to the left, went down into the gully along side the roadway, over turned, knocked down a fence post and then crashed into a utility pole, snapping it off about half way up in the air.

Stohr reported the youth was driving a car owned by Herbert Huff, 19, of 803 Washington, Clinton, Mo., who was traveling in another car ahead of Hargett, and had a passenger, Clarence Roark, 17, of Lincoln, riding with him.

Huff and Roark returned to the scene of the accident, when they noted Hargett no longer was behind. Stohr said Huff informed him they were traveling about 50 miles per hour. "This I can hardly believe," Stohr said, "as skid marks, distance traveled and damage to the automobile and the pole being snapped in two indicated to me the boy was traveling at a much greater speed."

Beckwith To Stand Trial In Evers Case

Mental Tests Are Blocked Further By Supreme Court

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi Supreme Court today blocked further mental tests for Byron de la Beckwith and ordered him transferred back to jail here to stand trial for the murder of civil rights leader Medgar Evers.

By a 6-3 vote, the court held that Circuit Judge Leon Hendrick of Jackson had exceeded his authority in ordering pre-trial sanity tests for Beckwith on motion of the state.

Beckwith was charged in the ambush slaying of Evers last June.

Evers, field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was shot to death as he stepped from his car at his home at night.

A fingerprint on a telescopic sight on a rifle found near the scene linked Beckwith to the case.

On motion of the state, Hendrick authorized mental tests for Beckwith at the state mental hospital at nearby Whitfield in adjoining Rankin County.

The defense went before Circuit Judge O.H. Barnett, whose district embraces Rankin County, and won a ruling that Hendrick had exceeded his authority.

Long Strike At Oak Ridge Is Settled

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—The longest strike in Oak Ridge labor history has ended at two atomic plants operated here for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Strikers at the facilities began returning to their jobs with the Union Carbide Nuclear Co. Monday night after voting to accept a 3-per cent wage increase and end a 28-day walkout.

In addition to pay boosts averaging 7 to 10 cents an hour, the strikers, represented by the Atomic Trades and Labor Council, won premium pay for weekend shifts. The workmen will get additional 15 cents an hour for Saturday work and 25 cents extra for Sunday.

Another clause in the new 18-month contract calls for the company and the council to share the costs of a new hospitalization and medical program.

Mother Frets Over Surgery For Daughter

14-Year-Old Girl Loses Limb, Hip By Court Permit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Blonde Mrs. Lily Simko was confused, brokenhearted, but most of all she was bitter—at everyone. Three floors up in an operating room, surgeons were amputating the right leg of Christine, her 14-year-old daughter.

Seated in a corridor of Metropolitan General Hospital, Mrs. Simko remained unreconciled to the facts. "What kind of life can my daughter have now?" she asked as sobs broke her voice.

Christine had a life-or-death question hanging over her. She had a malignant tumor in her right hip. Doctors agreed that only removal of the leg—including the hip—could save the girl's life. Otherwise, life expectancy was reduced to 6-18 months.

Now, Christine has a reasonable chance to be cured over a five-year period. Every week and month brings added hope, doctors say.

Four surgeons completed the operation in five hours Monday. All went smoothly. Christine will be out of bed in a few days. She will walk, first with crutches and then under physical therapy treatment with an artificial limb. Since her hip is gone, the limb will be attached from a strap around the waist.

Mrs. Simko never consented to the operation. Doctors said they believe she feared Christine would one day blame her for the loss of the leg.

Mrs. Simko is a divorcee. Christine's father disappeared six years ago.

Noted Author Barghoorn An Authority On USSR

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians announced today the arrest of Prof. Fred C. Barghoorn of Yale University on a charge of spying—the first such case involving an American since the recent cold war thaw.

The U.S. Embassy got the news from the Foreign Office, which refused to give any information on where he is being held. The embassy was pressing for details of the charge against him.

The author of several books on the Soviet Union, the 52-year-old professor formerly was on the staff of the U. S. Embassy in Moscow Union about Oct. 1 on a month's tourist visa. The Foreign Ministry said he was arrested several days ago.

Barghoorn went to Alma Ata, capital of the Central Asian republic of Kazakhstan at the time of an exhibition of American graphic arts there early in October.

An embassy official said he last saw Barghoorn Oct. 12 at Tbilisi (Tiflis), capital of the Georgian republic. That is the last time he was reported seen by any Westerner.

If the charge follows the usual pattern in cases of foreign tourists accused of espionage, a camera might have gotten Barghoorn in trouble. The usual charge is photographing military installations, and in the Soviet Union that can mean almost anything, such as a bridge.

Barghoorn is a resident of New Haven, Conn. He is a brother of Prof. Elso Sterrenberg Barghoorn, a Harvard botanist.

He is a professor in the Political Science Department at Yale.

He was on the staff of the American Embassy in Moscow from 1942 to 1947, with the State Department in Germany from 1949 to 1951, and has been a lecturer at several universities.

The arrest of Barghoorn was the first Soviet spy charge involving an American since the signing last July of the limited treaty on banning nuclear tests. The signing was followed by an easing of international tensions—and the release of two Americans imprisoned in the Soviet Union.

Declines to Review King-Thompson Act

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri Supreme Court has declined to review the almost defunct King-Thompson utility anti-strike law.

The court pointed to the U.S. Supreme Court decision last June 10, knocking out the state's right to seize public utilities in labor disputes as unconstitutional. The state court said that made the subject "more or less academic."

Battle Lines For GOP Nod Are Drawn

Barry, Rocky Command Posts Just Doors Apart

WASHINGTON (AP)—From command posts a few doors apart, men who want Sen. Barry Goldwater and lieutenants of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller have drawn their battle lines.

Their tactics differ, but their goals are the same: Top spot on the Republican presidential ticket and a run for the White House—three blocks down the street, but millions of votes away.

A self-style missionary for the Rockefeller presidential cause is out to spread the New York governor's gospel in Washington—and "not just for the exercise."

Alfred A. Block up Connecticut Avenue, a high-powered draft Goldwater movement is looking for dollars and delegates to pledge to the Arizona senator.

Alexander M. Lankler, a tall, 34-year-old Washington lawyer, presides over Rockefeller's political office. Actually, it's Lankler's law office, with a stack of Rockefeller posters and pamphlets in the corner.

"This is a missionary station," says Lankler. "The mother church is in New York."

Rockefeller has declared himself in the race, Goldwater has not.

Gunfire Ends Leavenworth Escape Try

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP)—Gunfire by a tower guard thwarted the attempt of two prisoners to escape over the wall at the U. S. Penitentiary today.

Warden J. C. Taylor said one of the prisoners was shot through both legs with a carbine.

The convicts had scaled the 40-foot stone wall when the guard, unidentified, spotted them. Both were captured. They had tied up or bludgeoned four guards.

The warden said the pair may have had help from three or four other inmates and that an investigation was continuing.

The wounded convict was Robert J. Robbins, 28, who was serving 17 years for kidnapping and for a previous attempt to escape from the Leavenworth prison. Robbins was transferred to Leavenworth last March from Alcatraz Prison.

His companion in the attempt to flee was Quitman Strickland, 31, who was serving seven years for aiding and assisting in an escape. He was transferred to Leavenworth in 1962 from the Atlanta prison.

The warden said the two inmates tied up a guard in a cell-house and then overpowered another officer and locked him in a cell. They also hit two other guards on the head, the warden said, but neither was seriously hurt.

The warden said the convicts had knives when they tied up the guard, took keys from the officers and obtained a ladder.

Crash Fatal to Youth

NINTH COUNTY FATALITY — The ninth fatality for Pettis County for 1963 occurred about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon on County Highway B, known as the Green Ridge Road, five miles southwest of Sedalia. Tommy Dean Hargett, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Hargett, Windsor, was the driver and lone occupant of the above vehicle, a 1954 Oldsmobile two-door sedan, which crashed into an REA utility pole snapping it off. The car was demolished. (Democrat-Capital Photo)

Front Lawn Sinks

While Family Stares

ALHAMBRA, Calif. (AP) — "We were sitting on the front porch when all of a sudden a big patch of lawn started to move, then dropped out of sight," a housewife declared.

"Nothing has ever happened to us in this house before," she said Monday, "but when your front yard suddenly sinks 18 feet, that's something."

Mrs. Esther Baker said the hole appeared over the weekend. Police were summoned. "An officer looked into the hole, suggested we fill it up, then left," she said.

"But then we discovered that the bottom of the hole apparently is the top of an old Indian or Spanish well. And that means it could go down another 50 or 100 feet."

UAW Votes Tonight On a Settlement

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Members of the United Auto Workers Union will vote tonight whether to accept or reject a settlement of their dispute with General Motors at its assembly plant in the Fairfax district.

Negotiators, facing a strike deadline of Wednesday noon, reached an agreement Monday night. Details were not revealed.

High Court Plunges Into 'Rezoning'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court plunges deeply today into the thicket of state legislative and congressional apportionments.

The tribunal has scheduled arguments in eight appeals that will be debated for more than 17 hours through this week's court sessions and winding up early next week.

The central theme in the cases is the allegation that metropolitan area voters are discriminated against by divisions favoring rural areas. Out of the group of cases is expected to come an understanding of what is necessary under the Constitution to provide fair representation to all citizens.

Appeals to be heard this week, in this order, are from New York, Alabama (three cases), Maryland and Virginia. The involve legislative districting. Next week cases involving congressional apportionment in Georgia and New York will be heard. Still another legislative districting case, from Delaware, will be argued Dec. 9.

Other requests for hearings are pending in cases from Michigan, Florida, Washington, Ohio, Oklahoma, Colorado and New York City's borough of Queens. Action on these requests may be deferred pending final decisions in the cases now up for argument.

The Supreme Court March 26, 1962, in a Tennessee reapportionment case ruled for the first time that state legislative districting was subject to constitutional challenge in federal courts. The ruling gave no hint as to what degree of equality the Constitution requires.

With the door thus opened to apportionment suits, a flood of litigation developed in lower courts. Imbalances in districting have been attacked in suits in more than 30 states. Lower courts have given conflicting decisions that seem to require eventual resolution by the Supreme Court.

While all this litigation is under way, numerous states have changed or are in process of changing the representation of urban and suburban areas in their legislatures.

In the confused situation, a Justice Department "friend of the court" brief filed with the Supreme Court contended that population must be the basic standard for districting. It said gross inequalities exist that violate the equal protection guarantee of the Constitution's 14th Amendment.

The brief was signed by Solicitor General Archibald Cox, who will present the department's views during the arguments this week and next. The brief said any deviation from a population standard is unconstitutional unless the differentiation has a relevant and substantial justification. It added that the high court need not decide now what would be a substantial justification.

The appeal to be argued today was filed by radio station WMCA of New York City. WMCA contends legislative apportionment of New York state systematically discriminates against urban voters. The station advocated that apportionment of both houses of the legislature be based on population.

Repeat Ruling On New Trial For Mrs. Kinne

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Supreme Court still insists that Mrs. Sharon Kinne is entitled to a new trial in the slaying of her husband. The 23-year-old Independence, Mo., woman was convicted in January of 1962 of murder and was serving a life sentence when the Supreme Court ruled she should have a new trial.

The prosecution asked the Supreme Court for a second rehearing on that question. But the court denied that request Monday.

In Jackson County, Prosecutor Lawrence F. Gephord said Mrs. Kinne would not be tried again before January. She has been free on $25,000 bond since July 19.

The Supreme Court reversed her conviction primarily on the basis that the circuit court trial jury should have been selected from a panel of 47 members rather than 34.

James A. Kinne was shot while sleeping at their home March 19, 1960. Police at first accepted Mrs. Kinne's story that she was in another room and the pistol apparently was fired by the couple's 2½-year-old daughter while playing in the bedroom.

The case was re-opened a few months later after Mrs. Kinne was accused of slaying the wife of a car salesman whom she had been dating.

Mrs. Kinne was acquitted in the woman's slaying.

Area Fires

The Pettis County Fire Dept. made a run to the City of Sedalia sanitary fill south of Sedalia about 12:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon where dry grass and weeds had caught fire and burned over a large area. The firemen used two booster lines to "whip-out" the flames. No damage was recorded.

Father, Four Sons Victims of Blaze

CHICAGO (AP) — A father and his four small sons perished Monday night in a fire that flashed through a West Side apartment. Three other persons were reported hurt.

The dead were identified as Alfred Similton, 27, and his sons, Michael, 6, Anthony, 5, Timothy, 3, and Ken, 2, all Negroes.

Big Powers Split On Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A go-between mission of smaller nations sought today to avert a U.S.-Soviet break over a Russian proposal for changes in the disarmament resolution before the U.N. General Assembly.

The eight-nation team was scheduled to brief U.S. delegates today on the results of a 90-minute huddle Monday with Soviet Ambassador K. V. Novikov.

Nigerian Ambassador S. O. Adebo, head of the group named by the 46 nations sponsoring the general disarmament resolution, said he hoped to find out whether there was any chance of the two big powers getting together.

The 46 sponsors had hoped for unanimous approval of their proposal calling on the Geneva Disarmament Committee to step up efforts toward agreement in limited areas as well as on complete and general disarmament.

The sponsors had expected to reach a vote last week after the United States and Britain signified approval. But the Russians circulated a working paper among delegations Friday suggesting (1) elimination of any call for specific measures such as guarding against surprise attack and (2) omission of a provision that the Geneva talks would be based on a set of principles the United States and the Soviet Union agreed on two years ago.

The Russians also proposed that the mandate of the Geneva commission be broadened to permit discussion of international tensions, and opening the negotiations to political issues.

With the United States and Britain opposed to such changes, the assembly's main political committee suspended its debate on general disarmament to permit private negotiations and switched to consideration of a proposal for a nuclear-free zone in Latin America.

News Editors Open Session At Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Managing editors from across the nation today open five days of discussion on their profession.

The Associated Press Managing Editors Association will take a close look at subjects ranging from the role of journalism schools to "Latin America Speaks Up."

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York will address the group Wednesday. The candidate for the Republican presidential nomination has agreed to a question-and-answer period.

The editors also invited Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, generally regarded as Rockefeller's chief rival, but he couldn't attend.

APME, at its annual meetings, reviews work of the vast network of member newspapers and staff personnel which make up the worldwide newswatching resources of The Associated Press.

Member citations will be announced Wednesday by Paul V. Miner of the Kansas City Star.

Wes Gallagher, AP general manager, will speak Friday on "The View From 50 Rockefeller Plaza" (AP headquarters in New York City).

Catherine the Great of Russia (1729-1796) was determined to make Russian society as cultivated as that of Paris or Berlin. At court she insisted on a high standard of manners and she encouraged her nobles to travel. Catherine's letters are graceful and witty and show real political and diplomatic insight. She wrote a history of the Russian people and a play in the style of Shakespeare. To accomplish all this she would rise at 5 a. m. and make her own fire.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: We just returned home from visiting relatives. There were other guests present and we were all seated in the living room. My husband saw a bowl of fruit on the coffee table and reached over to help himself. Before I could stop him he took a great big bite and broke his tooth on a wax apple.

Everyone was convulsed with laughter, and I must say the look of astonishment on my husband's face was worth the price of a ticket. Now he is mad at his sister-in-law and says she had no business putting out artificial fruit. He swears she did it as a gag.

I don't think he has a legitimate beef. If he hadn't had so many martinis he would have known the apple was wax the moment he picked it up. What do you think about this?—GARDEN OF EDAN.

Dear Ann: The hostess should not be expected to hang a sign on artificial fruit saying, "This is fake. Do not eat."

I suspect your conclusions about the martinis are correct. If your husband wants to be mad, let him be mad at himself.

Dear Ann Landers: In May our 16-year-old daughter eloped with a high school senior. They were gone only the night and nobody knows about the elopement but us. We six talked it over the next day when they returned and we succeeded in getting the children to see that it would be best to have the marriage annulled. Our attorneys worked it out with our clergyman and everything was settled.

Two weeks ago our daughter told us she is pregnant. The boy has made it clear he does not want to get married. He is a freshman in college now and is enjoying what he calls "his freedom." He told her to put the baby up for adoption if she wants to, and has made it clear she can't count on him for a thing.

My husband started looking for his deer rifle when he heard the boy's remarks. I got him to calm down and pleaded with him to be rational and not add to our daughter's problems.

Please tell us what are the boy's responsibilities? Can we force a marriage? We need help. — DISTRAUGHT PARENTS.

Dear Distracted: You cannot force a marriage. And even if you could, why on earth would you want to? That irresponsible little punk would make a lemon

States Noted Physician

Cities Are Number One Patients In, Public Health

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP)—In public health, cities seem almost to be the number one sick patient, a physician said today.

For one thing, said Dr. George James, New York City commissioner of health, they attract older folks who often require long-term and expensive health care.

But younger productive people, and taxpayers, are moving to suburbs.

Cities benefit from automobile transportation, but autos "pollute our airways and choke our streets," and cities must build thoroughways which slice away chunks of taxable property for support of essential city services, including health care.

A big trouble, Dr. James said, is that "the city is not in control of its own destiny... it can tax only as permitted by an outside authority, whether county, state or federal government. The city thus tends to be run more from the outside than from within. This affects its health program."

Nevertheless, many city health problems are often only magnifications, through concentration of people, of problems elsewhere in the countryside, and cities often take the lead in seeking new ways of meeting human health needs, he said.

Dr. James spoke as one diagnostician of health problems arising from increasing urban development at opening sessions of the 91st annual meeting of the American Public Health Association.

"Our health departments are increasingly asked to patch up what society has damaged," he said.

"The difference between health problems in good sections of town and local trouble spots is not a difference in the virulence of micro-organisms (germs and viruses) or the purity on water. It is a difference in social and economic level."

And "we have tended to accept the absurd notion that all the problems of our population concentrations are city problems just because they take within the city line. We have allowed the city to be separated from the body, much as the specialist has frequently separated the liver from the whole entity of the ill patient."

If 100,000 elderly people needing "plenty of health care" move into the city, this doesn't mean there has been any change in the total number needing this aid, Dr. James said. It means the city "is acting as a tremendous resource and service to the whole surrounding area. What we have meekly accepted as a city problem is at least a regional one and really a national one."

Dr. James urged "an overall view unimpeded by political boundaries. The serious problems are too great to permit the continued existence of the luxury of urban center versus rest-of-state conflict, or the fiction that urban health problems are purely a local responsibility."

"Unless the several states and the federal government take steps to increase significantly their support of the required innovations to meet the serious rise of health problems in urban areas, it will not alone be the great cities which will feel the sting," he said.

Social Welfare Meeting Slated Here Wednesday

The West Central Division Association for Social Welfare will hold its fall meeting at Holiday Inn, South Highway 65, Sedalia, at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 20.

Miss Ara Morris, Higginsville, former Sedalian, chairman of the West Central Division, MASW, will preside. Invocation will be given by Harry Walch, president of the Civic Club Council of Sedalia.

Sam Boyle, executive manager, Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, will be the moderator.

The speakers will be Dr. Wallace W. Wells, Community Development Center, University of Missouri, Columbia, who will speak on "Community Development As We See It" and Harold Thomas, director of Community Betterment Program, State Division of Commerce and Industrial Development, Jefferson City, who will take for his subject: "Community Betterment—A Five Star Special."

Reservation for the dinner may be made with Mrs. Mary K. Hunter, Children's Therapy Center, Bothwell Hospital, or by calling her at TA 6-7091. The deadline for reservations is Nov. 18.

MASW is a statewide, non-partisan, non-sectarian, not-for-profit organization of citizens dedicated to the improvement of the health and welfare of all Missourians.

CRUSADE SYMBOL, the Caduceus, designating the battle against cancer, is received by Gov. Thomas McNally, left, Moose Lodge 1494, from Robert Quann, 1963 crusade chairman and Mrs. Harold Norton, president of Pettis County Cancer unit. Sedalia's Moose contributed $320. to the drive, more than any other organization in this area. Two plaques were also given to the lodge.

Sedalia Moose Recognized For Crusade Gifts

An insight into the workings of Sedalia Moose Lodge 1494 was given 21 new enrollees November 10, during enrollment ceremonies at the new Moose home, Third and Lamine.

Following enrollment ceremonies the lodge was honored by presentation of two plaques and a three foot Caduceus (Sword) the symbol of the battle against cancer.

When called upon to contribute for the Cancer Drive, members arranged a chili supper. Members of the Moose and the women cooked the meal, served, washed dishes and helped in the initial ticket sale.

Members turned over to the Cancer Fund $320, the largest single donation from any organization in the Pettis county area.

Gov. Thomas McNally received the plaques and the Caduceus on behalf of the lodge from Robert Quann, 1963 Crusade chairman, and Mrs. Harold Norton, president of the Pettis County Cancer Unit.

During the presentation the Moose were lauded for their efforts which helped Pettis County.

Let's Get on With UF, Now

The final stages of the campaign for the sewer improvement bond election were warmed up during the closing hours by the pouring of a little coal oil on the embers.

'Twas all very exciting toward the last. The few sensitive sore spots should heal quickly.

With the passing of this election day, the community may look hopefully for diversion of their civic enterprise and promotion to other outlets.

One of particular importance is the continuing campaign to raise $78,000 for the United Fund. For a time the bond election and the UF drive were headed toward their respective goals at the same time. Necessarily there was some distraction of attention from one or the other because civic workers were active in promoting both.

Now with the sewer bond election over, and allowing for a few days of releasing the built up pressures and tensions, Sedalians may find some comfort in a resurgence of interest in the outcome of the United Fund.

The fund is over the $40,000.00 mark but that is a long way from the $78,000.00 goal. There was original hope this could be done without house to house and business to business solicitation. Unless an unprecedented surge of pledges comes within a few days, the door to door method may become a last resort.

No one has suggested a better system with minimum effort to raise funds for 13 participating agencies. We doubt that Sedalians want to abandon them. They serve a necessary purpose long recognized in our community life. If giving through United Fund doesn't support them adequately, we question whether these agencies will permit themselves to be abandoned.

The alternative, naturally, will be to discard the United Fund method of raising money, and for the agencies individually to conduct their own campaigns. Everyone knows what that means — an average money-raising campaign at least once a month.

There are few supporters of this arrangement, but that's the way it will have to be unless more revived animation develops among prospective donors within the next week or so.

The problem is a community one that requires a little more hard-thinking by those who up to now have been reluctant not only to give a fair share but to give anything at all.

Battle Over Aid to Church Colleges

DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The Senate is in for a battle this week over $1.2 billion of direct Federal Aid to churches and Catholic colleges.

Last year the Senate held out all summer in opposition to outright grants to church colleges. Though it was willing to vote loans to denominational colleges, it was not willing to vote outright gifts, on the ground that this was in violation of separation of church and State. All summer long the Senate and House fought over this with the Senate refusing to budge.

But this year, the Senate switched—provided the aid to colleges bill contained an amendment for a court test of the Constitutionality of aid to Church institutions. The amendment, introduced by Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., was adopted 45 to 33.

There followed a closed-door argument between the House and the Senate. This year, the Senate conferees, instead of holding out as they did last year, caved in to the House in 36 hours. They adopted the House proposal of outright gifts to Catholic Colleges, not loans. They also agreed to drop the Ervin amendment providing for a court test on separation of Church and State.

The compromise — which Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., calls a surrender — was worked out in advance by Speaker John McCormack, whom his fellow Bostonian, President Kennedy, sometimes calls the "Bishop of Boston."

Don't Want Loans

In the past five years, Congress has appropriated around $33,000,000 in loans for Church Colleges, but the colleges haven't shown much interest in loans. They have used only $3,400,000 of this amount. What they want is outright grants, as now agreed to by the House-Senate closed-door conference.

The House conferees who battled for grants without a court test were led by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, the Harlem globe-trotter, and Mrs. Edith Green of Portland, Ore., both Democrats. The Republican who fought hardest for the pro-church position was Albert Quie, Minn. They were joined by Peter Frelinghuysen, N. J., Charles Goodell, N.Y., Republicans; with John Brademas, Ind., Carlton Sickles, Md., and Sam Gibbons, Fla.

On the Senate side, Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., at one time threatened angrily to walk out of the closed-door conference unless the House abandoned its "Open Purse Policy" toward Catholic Colleges.

He did so even when the House wanted to vote outright grants to Church Colleges, regardless of whether the money went for teaching religious subjects. Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., joined Randolph in arguing that if outright grants were to be voted they must be for teaching the Sciences, Language and Physical Education. Morse was so eloquent that Rep. Quie interrupted with syrupy sarcasm:

"We know the Senator is a distinguished Lawyer and law teacher, but we can't follow your reasoning."

"It isn't my fault that the class isn't paying attention," shot back Morse. Then he patiently repeated his explanation.

Quie's sarcasm, on top of the interminable wrangling, shattered Sen. Randolph's patience.

"Mr. Chairman," he blurted, "I would like to make a statement."

He recalled that last year the House had approved specific grants for nonreligious courses, not blank checks to colleges. If categorical grants were good enough for the House a year ago, he demanded, why did the House oppose them now?

He made it clear that he had opposed all aid to Catholic Schools until Morse's persuasive arguments had changed his view, but that it was still all right with him to drop the whole question.

"I have a lot of things to do," he sized. "I am not interested in spending any more time here unless we can get somewhere."

Hurried Huddle

Stung by Randolph's rebuke, the House conferees held a hurried huddle and announced their willingness to negotiate. They beat down the Senate's demand, however, that Church-State aid be held up until the courts decided the Constitutional question. The Ervin amendment was then knocked out.

Sen. Hill continued to argue bitterly that any grants to Catholic Colleges were unconstitutional.

"I have always opposed Federal aid to religious schools, because I believe it to be unconstitutional, and I do not intend to change my position now," protested the Alabamian. "I consider this compromise unconstitutional, whether or not there are categorical limits on Federal Aid."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who wandered in and out of the closed-door meeting but seldom stayed long enough to participate in the discussion, nodded his agreement with Hill.

Morse pointed out that Hill himself had supported Federal funds for Church-controlled Medical Schools.

"That's special," replied Hill.

"You can't wipe out the Constitution by saying 'that's special,'" Morse retorted. He argued that if it is unconstitutional to grant Government money to a Catholic College for Physics course, then it should be unconstitutional to grant funds for a Medical Course.

Hill shot back that funds for Medical Institutions were not used for "Propagation of the Faith." Aid to Catholic Colleges, on the contrary, he said, were for propagation of the faith.

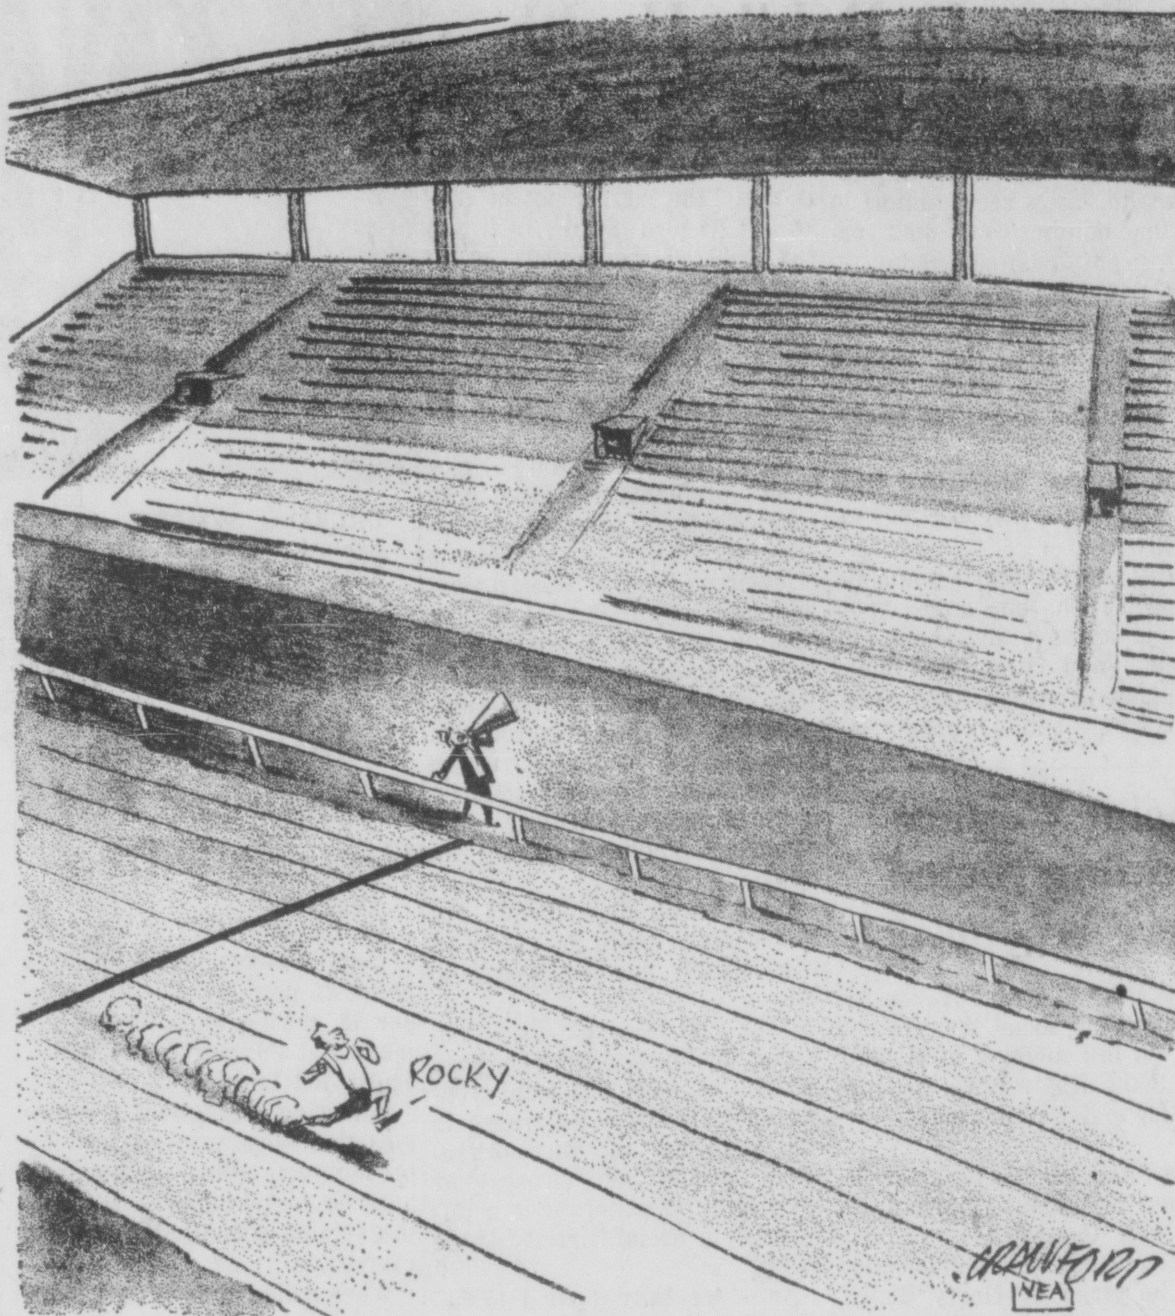

"Here I am certainly in the minority," he added, hinting that he didn't think he would be in the minority on the Senate floor.

In the end, Hill and Goldwater refused to sign the Conference report. Hill also cast the proxy of the absent Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., against the report.

The World Today

Nixon Hasn't Eliminated Himself

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has stopped far short of eliminating himself from consideration as the Republican party's choice for the presidential nomination.

He could do it in one, simple, positive sentence: "I am not a candidate for the presidential nomination and I will not accept it if the convention offers it to me or tries to draft me."

Instead, he has limited himself to saying he is not a candidate for the nomination, which can be interpreted as saying he will not actively campaign for it between now and the 1964 convention.

That's a long way from saying he would not accept the nomination or like to have it. Last month in an interview the magazine U.S. News & World Report asked him the question directly: Would he accept the nomination if drafted?

He said: "I shall not be a candidate in '64—and that answers all questions of that type...there can be no draft unless a man stimulates it or encourages it...my statement that I shall not be a candidate means there can be no draft."

It does not necessarily mean any such thing. The fact that he did not actively seek the nomination does not prevent the convention, if deadlocked on others, from seeking a way out by turning to him.

While he said he is not a candidate, he has been urging Republicans in all sections of the country not to commit themselves yet to any would-be candidates. His reason is said to be: It's too soon to know what will happen.

As of now there are only two candidates in sight: New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater. Rockefeller has already announced his candidacy. Goldwater is expected to in January.

And — both men have said they thought Nixon was acting like a candidate.

One month ago Nixon said he hoped there would be nothing on the record between then and the convention to indicate he favored one candidate over another.

While such reticence would avoid adding splits in the Republican party, it would also avoid making enemies for him among the followers of the candidate in case the convention finally did turn to him.

Monday in Miami editors representing a cross-section of the nation's daily newspapers said they feel Nixon will be the Republican candidate against President Kennedy, but that Kennedy will beat him again as he did in 1960.

Fifty editors, in Miami for the annual Associated Press managing editors meeting today, were quizzed by the Miami Herald and 26 of them picked Nixon as the Republicans' choice.

Goldwater got 12 votes. The rest went to Rockefeller and Michigan's Gov. George Romney. The editors stressed that their selections were based on judgment and not on their political preference.

Former President Eisenhower, in a Sunday television interview, said Nixon would be one of those definitely considered for the nomination if the convention deadlocks.

Nixon, asked about this, said he could conceive of "no circumstances whatever" under which he would be a candidate for the nomination. This was just repeating what he had said before.

But Eisenhower didn't say Nixon would be a candidate, but that a deadlocked convention might turn to him.

But, for a man not seeking the nomination, Nixon has been talking a lot. He explains that, too:

"At this time I believe I can best serve both the Republican party and the nation as an independent, constructive critic of the (Kennedy) administration policies rather than as a candidate."

This does have some advantages, of course, just in case the party in the end wanted to pick him.

In speeches against the administration he would be talking pretty much on the same issues as the candidate, thus providing a chance for comparison between him and them.

And it's a very excellent way to stay in the public eye, particularly the Republican eye.

The Well Child

High Fever For Long Time May Cause Loss of Hair

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My 6-year-old daughter is losing all her hair. Could this be due to a fever of 103 she had with a recent cold?

A—Your daughter could lose all her hair temporarily after a fever of 104 or 105 which persisted for eight to ten days. This is hardly likely with a cold even though severe. Too much vitamin A in the diet has been known to cause loss of hair but this is associated with other signs and symptoms of acute illness. In any case, the child's hair is almost sure to grow out again soon.

Q—What is the treatment for rheumatic fever in adults?

A—The treatment of rheumatic fever in adults is essentially the same as that in children. The victim should rest in bed until all signs of active disease have disappeared. Aspirin or other salicylates are given. Steroid hormones may also be given in the period of active infection, and penicillin or a sulfonamide for the next five years to prevent rheumatic heart disease.

Q—What parts of the face cannot be improved by plastic surgery? I was in an accident and had one lower eyelid badly torn.

A—Plastic surgeons have made great strides since the onset of World War II. I don't believe there is any part of the face that has been injured that can't be improved. The greatest trouble is that well-qualified plastic surgeons are still in short supply and many middle sized cities do not have one.

The Mature Parent

A Push Button Punk

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

After viewing the televised testimony of Joseph Valachi, no parent felt it necessary, I think, to turn to his family and say, "So you see, dear children, Crime Really Doesn't Pay."

A more compelling argument in behalf of the 8-hour day of honest work could not be made than the spectacle of this 60-year-old with his fumbling English, his muddled thinking, pathetic eagerness to please and revelation of a moral sense so retarded that he can proclaim his sole motive as the desire for revenge.

If we must draw a moral from what he has told us, the one we might undertake to sell is the Valachi stupidity.

It is not bright to spend 35 years in unquestioning obedience to authorities without ever asking, "What am I getting out of this obedience?" Whether one's authorities are hoodlums who try to command total submission with juvenile rituals of blood-letting or parents who try to command it by claiming to speak for God, it is stupid never to ask oneself, "What am I getting for my submission?"

The lesson to be learned from Joseph Valachi is not that crime doesn't pay. It is that unquestioning obedience doesn't.

In him we have been provided with the perfect example of what can be done to a human being by authority that can't be questioned, which rules by fear of pain and so destroys all exercise of moral sense of those it holds in thrall.

For Valachi is the inevitable product of the kind of authority which cannot listen, whose only response to protest is, "Do what you're told—or else." His shattered life is the perfect justification of those among us who refuse to demand unquestioning obedience from children and can say to a daughter, "If your homework is that important to-night, I'll set the table."

There he was on your television screen—the child of absolute authority. Take him, those of you who must wield it over your children. Don't snoot him. He's been a "good" boy. He's always done what THEY told him to do. And at 60, he has been compelled to reveal himself as a fool before the world.

We the Women

Friend Can Be Hubby's Foe

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A woman needs friends of her own sex, but she should not permit even her best friend to tell her how to handle her husband, children or her home.

Here's a letter from a man who has no trouble with his wife except when her best friend comes to visit, which happens at least twice a year and the visit is usually for a week or two.

"While she is here," says the husband, "she finds fault with everything and tells us exactly how we should be doing this or that. My wife is good-natured and easy-going and she won't tell her to mind her own business—though I'd like to."

This isn't just an isolated case. Other husbands have written pretty much the same complaint. Usually the best friend lives in the same town. But she causes the same kind of trouble, if she is the bossy sort who thinks she knows exactly how everything should be done, from what shade to paint the living room to how to bring up the kids.

A woman may need a really close friend to whom she can talk freely. But she should see to it that even such a close friend doesn't antagonize her husband by being around too much, having too much to say in the wife's decisions and opinions, or by knowing too much about the husband's business.

No woman is a really good friend if she causes trouble between a husband and wife. And no friend is important enough to be allowed to interfere in a marriage.

Polly's Pointers

Baster Minimizes Spatters

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — Have you ever felt like blowing your top when you put the lid back on a paint can, tapped it into place and had paint spatter all over the place? Next time replace the lid, cover it with a paper towel or old cloth and then tap the lid down. The paint spatters will be absorbed. Next time the liquid in a "too-full" casserole starts to bubble up and over, reach for your baster. Reach down the side of the casserole and remove that troublesome extra liquid.

The baster is also a handy tool in the workshop when it comes to blowing dust out of corners of furniture that is being refinished. Are you a "clipper?" I have found that if I keep recipes in envelopes, classified as pies, cakes, casseroles, etc., I can find what I need more easily. After I have tried one and liked it, it is placed in my permanent file. If it is not what my family likes or is too difficult to prepare, I discard the clipping. I trim off the tops of big plastic bleach or detergent bottles and use the plastic bottom to store sponges, scrapers or scouring pads. It eliminates drips on the bottom of my storage cabinet.—MRS. A. J. St. G.

DEAR POLLY—I do a lot of walking and wear through shoe soles very quickly, especially my left shoe. I do not find re-soled shoes very comfortable and hate to retire shoes that are good except for a small round section that is wearing through. Several crossed sections of adhesive tape will cover the worn spot and blend with the sole color as you walk.—PEGGY

DEAR POLLY — My youngsters are old enough to dress themselves but they share a clothes closet and often end up with each other's clothes. I tied two ribbons for each child on the clothes pole. I hang Mark's between red ribbons and Tommy's between blue ones. It also warns when one of the youngsters is getting low on clothes.—MRS. J. K.

GRILS—Cardboard tabs with the children's names could also be used.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Whenever you knit light colors it is a good idea to keep a clean hand towel around your knitting even though it is kept in a knitting bag. This protects it from dust and dirt when put aside and keeps it away from your clothes. The garment is fresh-looking when finished.—M. W.

GRILS—I keep a big plastic bag in my knitting bag and my knitting is always slipped into that for the same reason as M. W.'s idea. The bag lies in my lap, under the knitting, as I work.—POLLY ing that coat cleaned," she told the cleaner, who assured her he didn't expect her to. He picked up her yellow coat and cleaned it as quickly as possible.

Well, it's an ill wind that blows nobody good. And the workman grinned as he looked at his nice clean coat, which didn't cost him a cent and remarked: "I guess it needed cleaning, but I hadn't intended to have it done."—H. L.

Spending, Saving and Debt Are All On Rise In Nation

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Spending and saving and debt are all rising. This neat trick is managed by consumers because personal incomes are still increasing and so is confidence in the future.

All three activities—spending, saving for future spending, and taking on more debt—are of prime interest to business and industry. They have a lot to do in shaping today's profit and loss statements. And they influence future business plans.

The spending rise shows up in retail sales. They hit a record last month at $20.9 billion, up 5 per cent from the previous year. They are expected to rise still more this month, especially in the auto sector, and again in December in the stores.

Takers of the business pulse are especially impressed with the increase in sales at durable goods stores, up 7 per cent from October 1962, and 5 per cent better than in September this year. Soft goods advanced only 1 per cent from September, but are 4 per cent ahead of a year ago. Nondurables are supposed to stick closer to needs, but durables are affected more by the waxing or waning of confidence.

The consumer is still the main prop of the economy, in spite of the rise in government and business spending. And when consumers loosen up the purse strings, up goes the general feeling of well-being.

Confidence is even more reflected in the rising volume of consumer installment credit. Some of this taking on of debt is out of necessity. But much of it is out of belief, however soundly based, that future incomes can absorb it without pain.

Total outstanding consumer credit in September reached $66.3 billion, up $6 billion from the previous year. Installment credit was $51.6 billion of that, and $5.3 billion more than a year ago.

Since the September figures were compiled, auto credit outstanding has increased and this month many expect it to zoom. Auto dealers report more trouble in getting deliveries than in finding customers. If so, the need for credit will grow.

With all this spending and taking on of more debts, many Americans are still increasing their savings.

The various institutions—banks, insurance companies, and the many variety of funds—report increased totals of their holdings of the public's savings. At mid year savings were running at an annual rate of $29.6 billion, up $2.5 billion from the first of the year.

Lucille Ball Not So Bold, Just Wants to Get Along

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I look and sound like a bold person, but I'm not," said Lucille Ball. "But I'm a happy person now."

There are exterior reasons why she should be happy. The famous redhead is a star in her own right, and as president of the $25-million-a-year Desilu Productions, Inc., she is sitting atop one of the biggest gold mines in show business.

"But what makes you happy in this business is just being a part of it," she said. "I never have fought over questions of billing or money. My biggest thrill is in being recognized as an accomplished performer."

"Success to me is just a steady, go-to-meeting, workaday continuance. I don't feel any different. There are more people to help, but that's no problem. It's a pleasure."

Miss Ball, looking far more fetching in her pajamas than the general run of corporate heads, abandoned her bowl of luncheon rice pudding and laid aside the script she had been reading. She walked to the window of her hotel living room and glanced out into the rain.

She recalled an incident of her youth, when she was an obscure model here, hoping that somehow, sometime she would be able to land a job as a showgirl.

South Abell 4-H'ers Plan Holiday Party

Christmas party plans were made at the Nov. 7 meeting of South Abell 4-H Club at Community Hall.

Roll call was answered with "What I Think About Most." Membership cards were turned in for the new year.

Activities chosen were: health, grooming, and recreation. Chairmen will be Monica Middleton, Sheryl Schneider and Stanley Bohon.

Bobby Bohon gave a demonstration on "How to Make a Calf Club Halter."

Officers and leaders will meet at the George Anderson home at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 29 to plan 1964's program.

Nine members, five leaders and two guests were present.

Names were drawn for an exchange of gifts at the Christmas party, which will be at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 6 at the Lawrence Schneider home.

Old Versailles Courthouse Has Its Face Lifted

A face-lifting is being applied to the Morgan County Courthouse, Versailles. H. W. Savido, Deepwater, has been sand blasting bricks.

The courthouse was completed in 1890, at a cost of $19,000 and replaced a smaller brick structure that was destroyed by fire March 12, 1887.

The 1887 fire, which also destroyed many business buildings on the courthouse square, destroyed some records kept in the county offices. The hand-molded bricks salvaged from the old courthouse were used in construction of some buildings still standing around the square.

According to old records, bricks used in construction of the courthouse were made by prisoners at the state penitentiary in Jefferson City. Above the window on the north side of the recorder's office, one of the bricks bears the name, "J. L. Morrison, Warden." Harmon Griffith, Sedalia, was contractor.

A room on the upper south side of the courthouse was used for a jail for many years. Prisoners were moved there from a log jail near the square. For many years, the Versailles Leader and Versailles Statesman, Democrat and Republican county newspapers, had pressrooms in the courthouse basement.

Five-Girl Mat Card On Schedule

A heavyweight clash between two top-rated pros and a five-girl battle royal will share top billing tonight on the wrestling program at Convention Hall in Liberty Park.

American Legion Pettis County Post No. 16 has arranged what promises to be an action-filled card to get under way at 8:15.

Heavyweights on the scene will be the stocky Ohio bad man, Rock Hunter, and Missouri's Ronnie Etchison, a 235-pound speedster in his 18th season of pro action.

Girls scheduled to participate in the battle royal are Jessica Rogers, Mars Monroe, Ann Reagan, Darlene Shields and Jean Antone.

Theirs will be a queen of the hill event, with virtually anything allowed. To be eliminated from the action a contestant must be tossed over the top rope. To make things more worthwhile each girl is putting up $50.00, with the winner scheduled to take it all.

Hunter and Etchison are long-time foes who have no particular fondness for one another. Hunter's boastful, arrogant manner has earned him the dislike of most of the area's heavyweights and Etchison is well up in that group. It will be a test of Ronnie's speed and scientific-style attack against Hunter's brute strength and rules-straining tactics.

Besides the battle royal and the heavyweight pairing, there will be two other matches. In one of them the saucy Rogers will tangle with Monroe. In the other Antone will try to tame the tempestuous Reagan.

Three Tie Games Seen In Soccer

Sedalia soccer fans saw three tie games, one at Liberty Park and one at Centennial Park, Sunday afternoon.

In the Atom League, Sealtest and the Jaycees battled to a 0-0 tie, leaving Sealtest with an 0-0-2 record and the Jaycees 1-0-0 mark. Both teams experienced good saves from the goalies.

Bantam League action saw the Jaycees whip Sealtest, 1-0. Nicky Fowler kicked the ball 60 feet from center, high over the goalie's head for the single score with two minutes left in the game. That puts Sealtest with a 5-8-0 record, while the Jaycees are now 5-6-2.

The Midgets saw Optimists down S and M Athletic Goods 2-0 with Kenny Drenon in the first half and Gary Stroup in the second for Optimist. Optimist is now 5-3-5 for the season, while S and M holds a 4-7-2 record.

Two games played to a 4-4 tie each in the Junior League. In the first game, A. Hurlbut scored two and Danny DePre scored two for Mutual of Omaha, while William Dodge and Gary Cornell scored two each for Adco. The second game saw Paul Schmidt score three and Danny Stratton one for T and G Motors, while Sammy Moore scored all four goals for Optimist. Sunday's action left the Junior League teams with the following records: T and G Motors, 2-3-4; Mutual of Omaha, 2-1-6; Adco, 1-2-6; Optimist, 2-1-6.

Sacred Heart Scores With Zone Press

Sacred Heart employed a full-court zone press to stymie Lincoln's offensive efforts and the Gremlins sacked up a 53-33 first round win in the Cole Camp Tournament Monday night.

Chuck Hogan pitched in 14 points to lead the Gremlin column and Harold Straker added 11 for second high. Hogan kept Lincoln ill at ease throughout the game as he stole the ball 11 times.

Sacred Heart led throughout the game, but turned in their best effort in the final period when they dropped in 24 points. The Gremlins fired a sizzling 70 per cent on the field goals in the final half.

Cecil Gerke raked off 12 rebounds for Sedalia and Straker pulled down 10.

Score by quarters:
Sacred Heart 10 11 8 24—53
Lincoln 9 4 10 10—33

Individual scoring:

Sacred Heart—Chuck Hogan, 14; Harold Straker, 11; Everett Koehner, 10; Dennis Gartner, 8; Cecil Gerke, 6; Bernie Bahner, 2; Rick Hawkins, 2.

Lincoln—Darrell Hansen, 10; Roberts, 8; Mueller, 6; Summers, 5; Dwayne Hansen, 3.

Sacred Heart sees action in the tournament again Thursday night with the game starting at 7 p.m.

In the girls volleyball bracket of the tournament, Lincoln surged by the Sacred Heart Girls 40-14.

At the half the girls were tied 5-5, but Lincoln connected on nine perfect serves and Sacred Heart never rallied.

Kathy Gibson was high scorer for Sacred Heart with four and Evelyn Stohr was close behind with three. Drennon had nine for Lincoln and White had eight.

Sacred Heart girls play in the tourney Wednesday night.

In District 5

Sayers, Lane, Vaughn In Eyes Of 'America' Board

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Gale Sayers, the Kansas phantom, Missouri's talented Gary Lane and Iowa State's Tom Vaughn—three names that drew most raves this week from the Associated Press District 5 all America Board.

Sayers set a conference record with a 99-yard touchdown run at Nebraska. Vaughn's twisting 73-yard punt return for a touchdown was one of the best ever against a Bud Wilkinson-coached Oklahoma team.

Lane, a swift runner and excellent passer, scored three touchdowns, one on a 69-yard dash, in Missouri's victory over Colorado.

The electrifying run by Sayers came on the first play after Nebraska punted out of bounds on the Kansas 1-foot line. He got a block from end Bob Robben at the 10, faked out one tackler, shook off another and then simply ran away from the Husker defense.

"It was a great thrill," said Sayers, a 202-pound Nebraska native. "If (Kent) McCloughan had been in the game he might have caught me."

It was a power sweep with a deep pincut to Sayers, the same play used at the Kansas 1 against TCU. Sayers raced to the 50 that time, but a penalty nullified the run.

"We weren't asleep," said Coach Bob Devaney of Nebraska. "We worked against that play all week. They just executed it well and he was gone."

Vaughn's run drew this comment from OU line coach Gomer Jones:

"That's the first time I can remember anyone running a punt back on us."

Vaughn got blocks from Dick Limerick and Dave Hoover to reach midfield, where four or five Sooners awaited him. Otis Williams blocked out two and Vaughn evaded the rest with a fancy pirouette.

By now Vaughn was on the opposite sideline. Ralph Neely, 245-pound Oklahoma tackle who had missed him at the Iowa State 30, raced downhill and missed him again at the OU 20. End Rick McCurdy awaited Vaughn at the 10, but Vaughn faked him out and scored.

Lane's 185-yard run-pass day at Colorado came on the heels of his 175 yards total offense against Nebraska. The loss of halfback Monroe Phelps before these two games put the load on Lane, but the poised rookie has responded like a veteran.

Virgil Boll, Oklahoma's outstanding two-way halfback, also drew high praise from the board. He set up the Sooners' go-ahead field goal with a 55-yard punt return against Iowa State and got the clinching TD on a 46-yard interception.

Several linemen were cited by the board for outstanding play. They were end Mike Shinn and tackle Brian Schweda of Kansas guard Bob Brown and tackle Lloyd Voss of Nebraska; tackle Dave Gill of Missouri; guard Tim Brown and center John Berrington of Iowa State.

She ran her 1963 bankroll to $24,533 Monday as she took down first money of $1,300 by capturing a sudden death playoff from the acknowledged queen of the links—Mickey Wright.

Misses Whitworth and Wright tied at 72 holes with 299 and in the playoff Miss Whitworth was par 4 on the first hole while Miss Wright hit a sand trap and took a bogey five.

Rolls to Mississippi

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The women's golf tour rolled on to Gulfport, Miss., today with Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M., holding the San Antonio Civitan Open Championship—her seventh tournament victory of the year.

She ran her 1963 bankroll to $24,533 Monday as she took down first money of $1,300 by capturing a sudden death playoff from the acknowledged queen of the links—Mickey Wright.

Misses Whitworth and Wright tied at 72 holes with 299 and in the playoff Miss Whitworth was par 4 on the first hole while Miss Wright hit a sand trap and took a bogey five.

Springfield In Line For Mineral Bowl

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—Northern Illinois and Springfield State of Missouri are among five college football teams being considered for the 15th annual Mineral Water Bowl in Excelsior Springs Nov. 30.

Northern Illinois has finished its season with a 9-0 record and has a remarkable passer, George Bork. Northern played in last year's bowl game and was edged by Adams State of Colorado 23-20 in the final moments.

Springfield, the new champion of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association, has an 8-0 record and will finish its season at home against Akron University Saturday.

The other teams being studied by the selection committee are Luther of Iowa; South Dakota State of Brookings, and Western Colorado State of Gunnison.

Luther, 9-0, easily handled its opponents, all Iowa teams, and has finished its schedule.

South Dakota State, beaten only by Nebraska, stands 8-1 and will play Arkansas State of Jonesboro as a finale.

San Diego's Flanker Back Ties a Record

NEW YORK (AP)—Lance Alworth, San Diego's baby-faced flanker back, tied an American Football League record Sunday by catching 13 passes against Boston, a performance that made him the leading ground gainer among the league's pass catchers.

Although Alworth's total of 46 catches is good for only sixth place in the standings and trails leading Art Powell of Oakland by six, he has gained 968 yards and scored eight touchdowns. Alworth's catches have been worth a fantastic average of 21 yards.

Clem Daniels recaptured the rushing lead when he picked up 122 yards in 31 carries for Oakland in the Raiders' 22-7 Friday night victory over Kansas City.

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—America's top ten professional golfers have won $617,609 so far this year, led by Arnold Palmer with $128,230, according to a report from the Professional Golfers' Association.

Jack Nicklaus was second in winnings with $98,990, followed by Julius Boros with $77,356 and Tony Lema with $67,112.

tained first place among the passers with Jack Kemp of Buffalo close behind. Rote has averaged 9.5 yards per-attempt and has completed 114 of 182 for 14 touchdowns.

Gino Cappelletti, Boston's place kicker, widened his impressive lead in the scoring department with a total of 87 points to 53 for George Blanda of Houston.

"I own three Dodge CT800's and one competitive make, all tandem dumps. The Dodges carry a ton more per load than the other make. And each Dodge uses 25 less gallons of gasoline a day. Between the added load and the gasoline savings, I figure each Dodge puts an extra $2500 a year in my pocket. As for maintenance, my Dodges have run up to 130,000 miles without major repair. My business is hauling sand and gravel, a job that's tough on any truck!" Victor Edwards, Macksburg, Iowa. And Dodge trucks keep getting tougher all the time, because of our policy of making running improvements when they're ready, not saving them for announcement time. But in spite of their added features and saving ways, Dodge trucks are still priced lower than most of the competition, right in line with the rest. Price, plus your dependable Dodge truck dealer's liberal new finance plan, makes a great combination. It can put a Dodge Job-Rated truck to work for you for less than you might think. Talk it over with your Dodge truck dealer soon!

Texas Keeps Top Grid Spot Despite Slim Win Margins

NEW YORK (AP) — As the only major college team still unbeaten and untied, despite the slender margins of victory, Texas retained its spot as the nation's No. 1 football team this week.

The Longhorns were first on 48 of 53 ballots and took the top spot for the fifth straight week by a comfortable margin.

The panel of sports writers and broadcasters voting in the weekly Associated Press poll also meted out recognition as due to other winners and losers. Navy, Michigan State, Oklahoma and Pitt rose in the rankings while Illinois, Auburn and Ohio State went down.

Texas, winning its eighth straight game, had to go all out to win a squeaker from Baylor 7-0. That was the fourth in a row won by no more than a touchdown. Instead of discounting the Longhorns because of those margins, the experts gave them a whopping total of 526 points on the scoring basis of 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc. That came on 48 firsts, four seconds and one vote for fifth.

Navy moved up from fourth to second with 446 points, replacing Illinois, which skidded far down the list after a 14-8 loss to Michigan. The voters obviously were impressed by the ease with which the Midshipmen massacred Maryland 42-7. Mississippi, an easy 41-0 winner over Tampa, a minor opponent, remained in third. Michigan State climbed from ninth to fourth after trimming Purdue

23-0 and taking the Big Ten lead.

Behind them in the Top Ten came Oklahoma, Pitt, Alabama, Illinois, Auburn and Nebraska. Oklahoma, a 24-14 winner over Iowa State, just nosed out Pitt for fifth in the point scoring, 284-281. Pitt's decisive 27-7 victory over Notre Dame lifted the Panthers from eighth place. Alabama, idle last Saturday, remained in seventh.

Auburn dropped from fifth to ninth after being edged by Mississippi State 13-10. Nebraska, holding its Big Eight lead with a 23-9 decision over Kansas, replaced Ohio State, a 10-7 loser to Penn State, as the ninth team.

The top ten teams with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

Iron Curtain Countries See US Fishing Gear, Like It

CORTLAND, N.Y. (AP)—This is the kind of life Leon Chandler has led—

He went directly from college to a career of fishing for pay. He's only 38 and isn't thinking of retiring. Just what would he retire to?

He is the vice-president of a company that makes fishing lines and as such he has visited virtually every lake and stream in the United States and many throughout the world. He's just returned home from an international fair at Poznan, Poland, where he represented 30 American firms and the fishing gear they make.

Fishing in Poland, as in the United States, is the country's greatest participant sport. There are these differences: In the U.S. fishing must compete with golf, bowling, tennis, motor racing and TV watching for the angler's time. In Poland there are few if any distractions. Besides that, a successful Polish fisherman eats better. Meat is scarce.

The Poles, then, were more than just interested in what Chandler had to show. They were amazed. What Americans consider commonplace, such as a push button spinning reel, is regarded as extreme luxury there. And the inexpensive lures, flies and special lines Americans take for granted are either non-existent or, when available, priced beyond Polish reach.

News of the amazing American fishing tackle spread like wildfire in Poland. Visiting U.S. Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., was told by a train engineer some 500 miles from Poznan that the U.S. fishing exhibit was the best thing at the International Fair.

A group of Russian army officers, including a general, requested a special demonstration by Chandler. He obliged.

Crowd Backs Decision To Use Griffing

NEW YORK (AP) — A year ago the All-America scouts watched every move of Lynn Griffing, quarterback of the University of Mississippi. Now he sits on the New York Giants' bench every Sunday afternoon, manning the phone from the scout in the press box, until Y. A. Tittle puts the game beyond reach.

Sunday was one of those days when Giants' line and exuberant defensive unit was making the Eagles wish there was an early bus home.

With about three minutes to go in the third period and the Giants leading 35-7, Allie Sherman took Griffing off the telephone and had him warm up on the sidelines. The big crowd of 62,936 at Yankee Stadium, warmed by the number on the scoreboard and word of an imminent defeat for Cleveland, cheered for "the kid."

There was a cheer when Griffing came in. On the third play he threw a long pass to Del Shofner but the fleet end dropped the ball. "I'm sorry," said Shofner to the rookie in the next huddle. "I could have gone all the way."

In the fourth period, Griffing cocked his arm and threw right into the hands of Lee Roy Caffey, an Eagle rookie who ran 87 yards for a TD. The crowd cheered when Sherman, who had Tittle warming up, left Griffing at the controls.

FLAPPER—The way this basset hound is flapping its ears you might think it is using them to fly like a bird. Actually, the mutt named Junior is clearing a broad jump during obedience trials in Austin, Tex.

Olympic Meeting Ends

See No Lasting Solution To AAU-NCAA Power Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Olympic Committee has ended its last session before the 1964 Olympics with no permanent solution in sight for the split between the Amateur Athletic Union and the colleges.

Neither the AAU nor the National Collegiate Athletic Association showed any letup during the two-day biennial meeting of the hostilities that once threatened to wreck America's hopes next year in Tokyo. The meeting ended Monday.

After mediation by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, both sides agreed earlier this year to a truce in their conflict until after the 1964 Olympics.

However, this didn't stop both sides from maneuvering for more power on the Olympic Committee. They kept up a running battle throughout the two days.

Just before final adjournment, committee president Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson commented:

"I leave here with a heavy heart . . . I was sincere in my plea that we should not have bloc voting, that we should consider each issue on its merits."

The conflict began Sunday when AAU forces reversed the committee's board of directors on the question of granting a newly formed federation sanction to represent the United States on the International Federation for Baseball.

The NCAA backed the high schools and junior colleges in seeking more votes in the new

Betting Guide In Horses For Courses

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—A handy guide for bettors is "Horses for Courses." Mongo re-emphasized it Monday by taking the measure of champion Kelso in the Washington, D.C., International.

The course is grass. Mongo had been beaten only once in five previous races on the turf. Kelso had won only once, a minor event at Saratoga in the same number of outings on grass.

Half of Kelso's grass races now have been in the International and each time he's been runnerup. He wasn't given a chance to try the turf between last year's International and the 12th running.

Mongo and Kelso together turned the International into a strictly American match race against eight others from six foreign nations. It was a dozen lengths back to the third place Nyracos from France.

After the first half mile, during which Mongo twice repulsed Ireland's Christmas Island, there was only Kelso to make it a race. The champ also made two passes at Mongo but failed by one-half length.

Jockey Ismael Valenzuela tried to win for Kelso through a foul claim. All it did was hold up Mongo's $90,000 bite of the $150,000 in prize money for 23 nervous minutes.

For Mrs. Richard C. duPont, owner of Kelso, the $25,000 second prize was a solace as it left her 6-year-old gelding only less than $500,000 away from being the first earner of $2 million.

Kelso has earned $1,581,702 in 45 races, 31 of which he's won. Mongo, two years younger, is still only half way to his first million.

Pistons Win Victory Over LA Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bailey Howell had a bad hand, but Don Ohl and John Egan had hot hands.

Howell was out of the Detroit line-up Monday night but Ohl and Egan each scored 27 points and led the Pistons to a 116-109 National Basketball Association victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

The Lakers, however, held onto the Western Division lead as the second-place St. Louis Hawks lost to Boston's Eastern Division front-runners 116-110 in the only other game scheduled. It was the ninth victory in 10 games for the Celtics.

Ohl put the Pistons ahead to stay early in the second quarter. Then Egan led a third quarter spurt after three baskets by Elgin Baylor had pulled Los Angeles to within four points at 65-61. Baylor led the Lakers with 28 points and Dick Barnett chipped in with 27.

"Everybody knows that Baylor and West are not for sale or trade regardless of the offer," he added. "I'm sure the management of the Baltimore ball club knows that."

He acknowledged that he had heard rumors of the trades. One proposed Baylor going to the Bulls even up for Walt Bellamy. The other had West, Jim Krebs and Frank Selvy being swapped for Bellamy.

Beliveau Keeps National Hockey Scoring Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's Jean Beliveau maintained his National Hockey League scoring lead last week, but Chicago's Bobby Hull made the biggest gain and vaulted into a tie for the runner-up spot.

Beliveau accounted for one goal and two assists last week and now has six goals and a league-leading 17 assists for 23 points, according to league statistics released today.

Hull, meanwhile, picked up five points for a total of 18 and tied teammate Stan Mikita for second place. New York's Phil Goyette is fourth with 15 points.

Mikita fired three goals last week, taking over the No. 1 spot in that department with nine.

Detroit's Gordie Howe, the defending scoring champion, is in a tie for 12th place with nine points. Howe ran into a slump while trying to score an NHL record 545th goal. He did it Sunday and now has five goals and four assists for the season.
